THE FAREWELL SCENES.

THE CLOSING HOURS OF THE Y. M. C. A CONVENTION AT DURHAM.

Addresses Sunday Afternoon and Night -- They Talk of the Good Impressions Received.

Durham, N. C., March 23, '91 .-It rained, as it has done almost the entire session of the Convention, but this did not prevent the delegates from assembling in a large number at the night session and engaging in the enjoyable song service, led by Prof. E. E. Britton, of Mt. Olive.

After the conclusion of the half hour song service the Convention was ad dressed by three leading college Y. M C. A. men on the subject of "Work for College Men." Messrs J. L. Kessler, Wake Forest College; W. E Rollins, State University; and C. K. Ober, New Committee.

The above named gentlemen entertained theConvention with the most interesting and practical addresses on this sub ject, which consumed the whole time of the night s. ssion. Valuable h mis and suggestions were given to accollege Y M C. A. boys present as to their duty to their fellow-students. It was suggested that the Y. M. C. A. of the colleges might in a great measure, and in time, developed into a staid business man, but completely put an end to the hazing for one little circumstance, which, alwhich is so prevalent among the colleges of to-day. And instead of making the "newy" quake and tremble by rough treatment, to take him by the hand and | walker" of the establishment was unpopwelcome him and make him feel that you are his friend.

Sunday Morning.

Sunday morning, at 9.30 o'clock Stokes Hall was crowded with men of all ages to attend the consecration service led by Evangelist Fife.

Mr. Fife gave a most profound and impressive Bible reading on "Consecration," reading various passages from the Bible bearing upon this subject, after which the meeting was thrown open for those present to reconsecrate themselves to the service of God.

Long will that meeting be remembered by those who were present. Old men wept, as they had never wept before, as they listened to the burning words as they fell from the lips of those young men as they, in their youth, consecrated themselves to the service of the Lord, and gave their lives, as some of those did, to the work of carrying the gospel to foreign lands; young men wept as they beheld old gray-headed men, who had lived far from Christ, but who now reconsecrated themselves to the service of God.

It was indeed a grand meeting, and all felt the influence of the Holy Spirit.

After the consecration meeting, the delegates attended the various church services held in the city, the pulpits being supplied by the visiting ministers. Afternoon & rvices.

At 4 o'clock there were two men's meetings held-one in Trinity M. E. Church, led by Mr. Anderson, of Asheville, and the other in the Second Baptist church, led by Mr. Wynne, General Secretary of South Carolina.

Both of these meetings were largely attended. Several stood up for prayer. There was also a boys' meeting held at the Association rooms, in the interest of the junior branch of the Association work, led by E. L. Harris, of Winston, and Mr. T. U. Diggs, of Henderson, which was also largely attended.

The Closing Services. At 8.30 o'clock, Trinity church was packed to overflowing with the delegates and citizens of Durham, to witness the closing exercises of the Convention. Mr. L. A. Coulter presided.

After the Convention had rendered several hymns, and prayer had been offered, Mr. Coulter stated the object of the meeting and said that he desired a word from each delegate as to what impressions the Convention had made upon them, and what benefit had been derived from attending the Convention. In response to this invitation many of the delegates spoke of the various blessings upon them by the Convention. Many | linked. believed that they had been made better men, and had been lifted up and drawn closer to God by having at tended the Convention, and by coming in close contact with such godly young men. Mr. L. C. Shuey, of New York; H. C. Williams, Virginia; and Mr, Wynne, South Carolina, spoke at some length upon the impressions that had been made upon them by the convention. At last Mr. Coulter arose and spoke with much feeling to the Convention, reading several passages of Scripture of the Convention. He said that there was always a tinge of sadness in these farewell services to him, but it impressed him more with the fact that there have them suddenly broken, but it was a source of joy and comfort to him to know that before many years shall have passed, that we all should meet in one everlasting convention around the throne of God, where we would part no more. After Mr. Coulter had finished speak the members of the Convention formed in a circle in the church, clasping hands, and sang that beautiful and touching hymn: "Bless Be The Ties touching hymn: After which Mr. James uthgate, President of the Convention, pped forward and in words that beyed much emotion, pronounced the M. C. A. Convention of 1891 as adhus adjourned the grandest body of ng men that has ever assembled in Old North State, and the blessed reof this Convention will be seen in ears that are to come.

> At Durham Court. f, N. C., March 23, 12 m.-Judge Boykin has not yet He has been ill at Graham but ed to-day.

BARRETT'S NOTABLE LIFE.

LAWRENCE BARRETT, the actor is dead. He was born of Irish parents in 1858, and became a great actor Iv his own habits of industry and ambition, added to his natural genius It is related that when he was sixteen years old he held a position in a dry goods house in Detroit and that his brightness brought him promotion. However it is said that he early developed a taste for the drama, greatly to the distress of his worthy parents, and every penny of his spending money was devoted to the purchase of tickets admitting him to that theatrical paradise dedicated to the possession of the "gods." Frequently, when business was dull, he would be found mounted on a dry goods box in the rear of the store earnestly declaiming passages which he had heard the night before at the theatre, and when the labors of York City, Secretary of the Inter-national | the day were at an end he would rehearse, for the benefit of an admiring audience of fellow clerks, the combat scene from "Richard III.," wielding a sanguinary yardstick in lieu of a better weapon. In spite of these theatrical proclivities the embryo actor might have settled down to mercantile pursuits for the remainder of his life, and eventually though trivial in its character, really metal in coin or in bullion; and it is an shaped his future destiny. The "store incident which will go far toward ular with the boys in the store, and one night young BARRETT was imitating his mannerism to their intense delight when all at once the laughter suddenly died away. Turning, the mimic perceived to his horror that the object of ridicule had > silent witness of the scene. "You have evidently mistaken your vocation, young man," said the irate store walker, "you should go on the entered the store unpercieved and was a

From that moment he determined to become an actor. He began on a salary of $2.50 a week. The Herald says:

The night of his first appearance in a speaking part came at last. The play was "The French Spy" and Barrett was cast for Murat. He was dead letter perfect in his few lines, but when he stepped upon the stage the dazzle of the foot-lights, the presence of a large audience in front and the novelty of the situation utterly blinded and confused him. His tongue clove to the roof of his mouth, his limbs trembled, memory was a dead blank and he was finally compelled to retire amid the hisses and laughter of the gallery gods without having uttered a word. For the next three months he could not speak a line of his parts, and was always pushed off the stage ir disgrace. Time after time the irate manager ordered him from the premises, but he wouldn't stay discharged, and finally he was tolerated as a nuisance that could not be abated. In time, however, he managed the stage fright and joined a small travelling company that played throughout this State and finally collapsed at New Castle, Pa., leaving the members penniless.

He made a western tour, and in a small Ohio town the newspaper ridiculed his performance unscathingly. This ridicule angered him so that he could not restrain the tears, and then and there he formed a resolution "to win from rebellious fame and from unwilling critics a complete vindication of his abilities against the merely censorious." He went to Philadelphia, Boston and other places, and during all the years devoted his entire spare time to the study of the great characters of Richlieu, Lear, Hamlet, Cassius and Richard III. His great success was in the impersonation of Cassius and it is with that lean and and the numerous impressions made hungry Roman his name is inseparably

MR. BARRETT was not only a great actor but was a successful manager as well, and in his celebrated engagement with EDWIN BOOTH he was the manager. In his private life he was genial, refined and attractive. His home was a happy one, and neither his wife or children were connected with the profession which he honored. No man has lived who has exerted a more elevating for the encouragement of the members influence upon the stage than LAWRENCE BARRETT, who had in his brilliant career delighted and instructed millions and driven carking care from many a weary was nothing permanent this side of heart. Concluding an appreciative eternity; we form new friendships to sketch of MR. BARRETT, the New York Herald says:

> "No actor has deserved better of the public, for none other has held to higher purposes, and none has done so much to dignify the stage, or advance and beautify its art. Faithful to the laudable ambition of his youth, true to the ideal of his deep, sympathetic intelligence, he has been at once a servant and patron of his art profession, of incalculable benefit and honor to the stage of this country. To his wisdom, moral force and artistic enterprise, as much as to any other influence that can be named, is due the high standard of the American stage in comparison with that of older art-serving countries. The knowledge acquired in foreign travel and through close friendly intercourse with the best minds of the United States and Europe he applied to the enriching of his profession, so that students of the drama had no better preceptor-indeed, no safer intellectual guide than this eminent actor. About five hundred pairs of the most beautiful pants for men ever seen,

OUR GOLD MONEY LEAVING.

ONE MILLION AT ONE SHIPMENT AND MORE SHIPMENTS TO FOLLOW.

Principles .- A Lost Bit of Sarcasm. copyrighted by the Reform Press Bu-

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 23, 1891. For years past, gold has been regularly shipped from the United States to Europe in large quantities. It has been a custom of the United States Mints to | and said: convert gold coin into bullion for convenience in shipping when so desired by the shippers Last week one million dollars in gold coin was presented to the fix two years from this time." mint by two New York firms to be converted into bars or bullion for shipment Secretary of the Treasury is given discretion in the matter of allowing coin to be converted into bullion at the mint. When this million of dollars in gold coin was presented for that purpose, the Sec retary, for various reasons declined to allow the mint to convert it into bullion. It was hoped by many that his action would prevent the exportation of the gold; but it did not. The coin was shipped, and will be followed by other large shipments.

This is an incident which will serve to show how the amount and volume of gold can be and is contracted in this country by constant exportation of the showing the necessity of having something more than gold for a money stand. When James, jr., came out two thing more than gold for a money stand-

A Contrary Incident. Another incident, very contrary to the above occurred last week. A Colorado firm presented some silver bullion at the mint for coinage into money. The director of the mint refused to coin it, his action being based on the provisions of the Bland Silver Bill. Here are two incidents for consideration and digestion. The Reform Press Bureau will give in next week's letter. as full and clear a treatment of the metal money question as the space of the letter will admit,

No Seeds for the Drouth Stricken and Destitute Sections.

Many applications have been received at Alliance Heatquarters in Washington from drouth stricken sections of the West, for seeds with which to plant crops during the coming season. These applications are the result of a publication in some western paper that seeds could be provided by the Alliance. That publication was an unhappy mistake. The Alliance has no command of seed, nor is there any fund with which to buy them. While the applications were pouring in, President Polk, N. F. A. and I. U. wrote to Hon. Jerry Rusk, Secretary of Agriculture, asking if the government could give the relief needed. The reply of the Secretary was as fol-

"Under the law, two thirds of the seed for which appropriation is made by each Congress, are allotted to the Senators and Representatives in that Congress, and are forwarded by this department under their franks, as they may direct. From the remaining one-third the statistical and other correspondents of the department are first supplied; the residue, if any, being reserved to meet much regret that it is not in my power

And this condition of affairs further illustrates what the last Congress was capable of, viz: Spending nearly ten hundred millions of the people's money and making no provision for supplying an absolute necessity to even a few of the nation's destitute, struggling and suffering people. What truth Oxenstiern spoke when he said, "You do not know, my son, with how little wisdom men are governed."

Espouses the Principles of the Alli-

Hon. Geo. G. Gorham, of California, a very prominent and influential leader on the Pacific slope, has declared himself in favor of the principles of the Napoly and and avarice of the railway system on the Pacific slope. He is a magnetic and convincing speaker before the Lottery Managers in Scheming Council. There has been a notable assemblage of the managers and representatives of the various lottery schemes of the world in this city within the past week. The close watch that Postmaster-General Wannamaker has been giving the lottery people, has caused them to council as to the best manner and way to evade rigid laws recently enacted by Congress on this subject. Mr. Wannamaker says he never intends to let up on them as long as he remains in power, and the law stands on the statute book.

State Organizations. The Iowa State Alliance was organized last week. Proclamations have been issued by President Polk for the organization of the Ohio State Alliance at Columbus, on April 16th, and for the organization of New York State Alliance at Hornellsville on April 22d. A Lost Bit of Sarcasm. A defeated member of Congress of the silk stocking order sat in front of a leading hotel yesterday, smoking a fragrant cigar, while a pedal artist of the colored persuasion performed service on the ex-M. C's ten-dollar calf skins. There was a meditative, wish-I-was-coming-back look in the ex-M. C's face as he remarked to the foot-fear artist:

"Jeff, the congressmen who will come here next year don't have their shoes polished; they eat meals in their shirt sleeves; they pick their teeth with forks; they eat cornbread and bacon, and board at cheap hash houses; old fashioned corn shuckings will be in order again, and your business will be gone." The colored artist looked wonderingly and doubtfully at the M. C. for a moment, then an inaffable smile of pleasant anticipation widened his features as he PLACED IN A BEAUTIFUL CAS-

"Judge, dem's de kind of folks I likes. I is a granger. I was raised on de farm, and allus stands by my folks. Dey don't No Seed For the Destitute People -- A put on frills. I can make a livin' wid Prominent Man Espouses Alliance dem kind. Wid you folks it takes all I cad make to keep up de style to git business."

A Statesman Looking for a Job.

Chamber on the 4th of march he met

Secretary Blaine who was just entering

When Senator Ingalls left the Senate

from the north door. The Kansas exsenator caught Mr. Blaine by the hand "How are you Mr. Secretary? Here is a statesman looking for a job ' "I offer you my condolence" replied Mr. Blaine, "as I shall be in the same

To this Mr. Ingalls said: "Oh, you are safe unless there is a wonderful change to Europe. By an act of Congress the in the political outlook. Reciprocity will save you if the Farmers Alliance doesn't get after you: but if it does there's no telling where you will land. You'll be liable to turn up without socks or collar and as a "back number."

HYPNOTIZING DRUNKARDS.

H. W. AYER.

A Cure Said to Have Been Thus Effected on Senator Fair's Sons.

San Francisco, Cal., March 23.-Senator James Fair, the father of Mrs. Berman Oelrichs and perhaps the richest man on the Pacific coast, has two sons, James, jr., and Charles, who have been, months ago from the German Hospital, where he had been seriously ill an account of excessive drinking, some friends talked to him of Dr. Brown, the hypnotist, who was said to have performed wonders with an opium-taker, and after a great deal of persuasion he was induced to pay the hypnotist a visit.

Brown knew his man, and he exercis ed his will power upon the palate of the heir apparent to millions. He was kept under hypnotic influence for several hours, and when he was brought back to a conscious state he was told by the healer to go and drink no more.

The admonition was unnecessary. He could not drink. He made a vigorous effort but failed. The liquor acted on him as an emetic.

That was six weeks ago and he has not tasted a drop since. Before this he had to be put to bed five nights out of Young Fair then took his younger brother Charles to Brown and he, too, was put under the spell. In his case it also worked like a charm and he developed an intense dislike for liquor. He told the World representative that so sick of liquor is he that the swinging doors of a saloon fairly nauseate him. There is no happier man on the coast than SENATOR FAIR.

CLEVELAND LEADS.

He is The Choice of the Virginia Democracy for President.

RICHMOND, Va. March 23.—The Times publishes interviews from all over Virginia with representative Democrats as to their choice for the next Democratic Presidential nominee. Two hundred and forty four replies have been received miscellaneous requests for small quanti- from forty-four of the one hundred counties to be used in experimenting. I very | ties of the State, showing preferences for Cleveland 125, Hill 49; scattering 70, to furnish assistance to these suffering giving Cleveland a clear majority of six over the field. Editorially the Times will say that while it is evident that Cleveland has been hurt in the State by his recent anti-silver coinage letter, these returns show that he is still the choice of the Democracy of Virginia, for the Democratic standard bearer of 1892.

A BIG INDUSTRY.

Gastonia Foundry and Machine Shops Incorporated.

GASTONIA, N. C., March 23. [SPE-CIAL.]—A company for establishing and operating a foundry and machine shop was organized here on the 19th instant J. B. Beal is president; Miles Hanna, tional Farmers' Alliance and Industrial | vice-president; J. Rush Spencer, secre-Union. Mr. Gorham was the first man tary; P. A. Loftin, Treasurer. The who, in a bold and manly way, lifted | company has been offered more money his voice in California against the mono- but will begin operations with $4,000. It will be incorporated for $25,000. Orders for building material are already placed. About the 23d instant Mr. R. M. Gardner will leave for Philadelphia to purchase machinery. W. F. MARSHALL.

Best corset in America for 50c. At SWINDELL'S

PENITENTIARY REPORT.

January 1891

Expenses Over the Earnings, $5,239.96 The Board of Directors of the N. C. Penitentiary filed the following as their quarterly report yesterday: Expenses.

December 1890 $16,178.67 January 1891 22,754 59 15,644.31 February 1891 $54,577.57 Total expenses Earnings. $15,325.53 16,784.48 17,227.60 December 1890

February 1891 $49,337.61 Expenses over earnings $5,239.96 PAUL. F. FAISON, Chmn. B. D. N. C. Penitentiary.

Monroe High School Prospering. Monroe, N. C., March 23 .- [Special.]

-Notwithstanding the burning of the Monroe High School building, the school has lost very few pupils, and the gain in new pupils more than equals the with- pounds.

A fine lot of spring carpets and matting AT SWINDELL'S.

GEN. JOHNSTON'S REMAINS

Chronicle.

KET AND FUNERAL AR-RANGEMENTS MADE.

Telegrams From all Portions of the South, From Friends and Associates Expressing Their Admiration and Love.

Washington, March 23. - The remains of Gen. Jos. E. Johnston, who died Sunday morning at one o'clock, were placed in a beautiful casket to-day, and to-morrow morning will be taken to St. John's Church, where the funeral services will take place at 11 o'clock. Telegrams without number were received at his residence to day from prominent people throughout the South, announcing their intention to be present at the funeral here or in Balt more, or expressing regret at inability to pay the last sorrowful respect to a respected and revered friend.

St. John's Church, where the funeral is to take place, is a small edifice, and despite the efforts to have a quiet and unostentatious funeral, there will be an phone, and homes for artisans of every immense crowd, and the church will hold but a small portion of those who borough Loan Company may be taken as want to attend.

EXCITING CITY POLITICS.

Pierre Lorrillard Gets Beat Shooting Birds-Buncombe Has Three China-

ASHEVILLE, N. C., March 23.-Special].-Municipal polities and amendments to the city charter command twenty-five. Their property is situated the attention of Asheville's people at near Cumberland Gap, where English present. The election is in May, but the primaries for nominating candidates will be held in the first part of April. The two candidates from the Democratic will organize and develop a new indusparty are W. B. Gwynn and C. D. Blanton, the present Mayor. The contest will be very close and exciting.

There will also be an election at this time to decide whether the citizens of Asheville will appropriate $640,000 for street improvements, etc.

selected. It is a very handsome place for the school. The entire plat of ground upon which it is to be placed contains of Chicago; Judge Love and W. P. Cove, of Tennessee; T. M. Johnson, of Knox-37 acres. Maj. Bingham says he will be ready to open in October.

The pigeon shoot between Frank Meade, of Knoxville, and Pierre Lorillard, of New York, was won by Meade. He defeated Lorillard two birds. The istration of the affairs of the organizascore stood Meade 68, Lorillard 66.

I noticed in your paper of Friday the number of Chinese in the State. Only fifteen were given. Buncombe's representatives were omitted altogether. Sie has three Chinese within her borders. all of them in Asheville.

A RAILROAD LEGAL CASE DE-CIDED.

The United States Supreme Court Declares Against the E. T. V. & G. Railroad,

Washington, D. C. March 23.—Justice Brewer, in the Supreme Court of the United States to-day, rendered the decision of the court in a case involving the contruction of a law of the State of Tennessee relating to railroads.

The case came to the Supreme Court on a writ of error from the Supreme Court of Tennessee. The question involved was whether a charter given in 1847 to the company of which the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad Company is the successor, authorizing the company to mortgage its road in order to complete its construction equipment, conveys such actual rights as to make invalid a law of the State of Tennessee providing that judgments for labor done on or damages sustained by the operations of railroads in the State shall constitute a lien on the property prior to all others. The court holds that the right given by the original charter act expired when the road was completed and equipped.

Fifteen cent linen collars for 5c., At SWINDELL'S.

THE MOONSHINE MURDERERS.

They Resided in Surry and Not in Stokes County as Was at First Sup-

WASHINGTON, March 23.-The official report of the killing by moonshiners of internal revenue officers last week, has been received at the Treasury Department. It sheds no further light on the killing than that heretofore made public, except that the illicit distillery which it was attempted to seize was owned by a man named Parker, and was located in Surry and not in Stokes county, N. C., as at first stated. The Treasury Department and the Department of Justice are co-operating in efforts to ferret out the murderers.

Lawrence Barrett Laid to Rest.

NEW YORK, March 23d .- The funeral services of Lawrence Barrett were conducted this morning in one of the parlors of the Windsor hotel, by Rev. Thos. Sherman and were of the simplest character, consisting only of prayers for the dead. The casket was of rosewood covered with black cloth. Services lasted just ten minutes and at their close the body of the tragedian was at once taken to the Grand Central Depot where it was placed in a Woodlawn funeral car on the 11 a. m. train for Boston.

Prince Napoleon's Fortune Divided.

ROME, March 23.—Prince Napoleon's fortune, which amounts to twelve thoustand pounds annually, is divided among his children, Prince Louis receiving six thousand pounds, and Prince Victor and Princess Letitia each three thousand

It is now stated that the dead Prince left all of his manuscripts and docu- It is pleasant and agreeable to taste, perments to his son Louis.

LARGEST COMPANY IN THE SOUTH.

A $10,000,000 Company Organized in Knoxville.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 23 .- One of the largest, if not the largest incorporated enterprises ever entered into in the South, has just been organized in this city, under the laws of Tennessee. It is to be known as "The Corporate Town Company of Knoxville, Tennessee." It has for its object the founding of a great manufacturing city in the healthy highlands of East Tennessee which are so wealthy in timber, iron, coal and other mineral and agricultural resources, sufficient to support large industrial popu. lations. The capital stock is $10,000. 000; shares $100, distributed in small holdings throughout the entire country. Two hundred thousand dollars of this amount is already subscribed and paid

The company will control millions for purposes of development, such as building and owning street railroads, gas works, furnace, electric light and teledescription. The history of the Middlesillustrative of the future possibility of the new venture on such a large basis. The town of Middlesboro two years ago had only fifty inhabitants and four houses. It now has 7,000 inhabitants and the company owns property to the value of millions. The stock of the Middlesborough Company sold two years ago in the English market at five pounds sterling per share. It now commands capitalists have invested within the last two or three years $70,000. It is in this vicinity principally that "The Cortrial town. The President of this new enterprise is Hon. Robt. P. Porter, Supt. of Census, and ex-Congressman McComas, of Maryland, Vice-President. The directors are U. S. Senators John G. Carlisle, of Kentucky; Isham G. Harris, of Tennessee; H. C. Hansbrough, of The site for Bingham school has been North Dakota; ex-Representative Benj. Butterworth, of Ohio; Augustin Davis, ville, and B. A. Jenkins, President of the National Bank of this city. The latter gentleman is Treasurer of the Company. The management guarantee an economical and business-like admin-

EX-GOV. ROBINSON DEAD.

He Had an Eventful Life and Died at The Age of 81.

ELMIRA, N. Y. March 23. - Ex-Gov. Robinson died at 12:55 p. m. to-day. [Gov. Lucius Robinson was born in Windham, N. Y. Nov. 4th. 1810; he became a lawyer, was district attorney, Master Chancey as a Democrat. In 1859 he became a Republican, and was elected to the Legislature and afterwards comptroller of the State in 1861-63. He them became a Democrat, was nominated for comptroller but defeated. In 1871 he was a member of the Constitutional Convention, and in 1875 the Democrats elected him comptroller and in 1876 they elected him Governor. He was nominated for Governor again in 1879, but was defeated .- EDITOR]

SHOOTING IN OXFORD.

One Colored Boy Shoots Another to Pieces.

OXFORD, N. C. March 23. -[Special.] The negro boy Waverly Hobgood, who shot Pelton Moss, another boy, on Saturday has been captured after a long chase, and lodge in jail.

The particulars were as follows: It was about eleven o'clock and Waverly Hobgood, a boy of about 15 years, rented a gun from Edwards' Hardware Store and started off to hunting when he met another boy, Pelton Moss, with whom he became involved in a discussion. The report of the gun was heard, the screaming of Ross and running of Hobgood was evidence that the former had been shot by the latter. Hobgood made tracks to he woods and hid himself. A crowd gathered around poor young Ross whose left shoulder was shot to pieces and his arm nearly off. A posse of men went out and captured Hobgood. It is not known whether the shooting was accidental or intentional.

A good heavy white undershirt 20c., At SWINDELL'S.

He Figured on His Last Breath.

FINDLAY, O., March 23.-Dr. R. M. Bahl, a well known and prominent German physician, committed suicide this morning by taking 58 morphia pills. On the wall of his office, where he was found dead, was a calculation in which he had figured out how long it would take him to die. This schedule of time showed when the first effects of the poison would be noticeable, when he would become intoxicated, and would lose his consciousness. From this it was gathered he took the morphia at seven o'clock and expected to be dead by 10 o'clock. He seemed to have made a mistake in figuring, as he was found dead at 8:45 o'clock.

A Safe Investment.

Is one which is guaranteed to bring you satisfactory results, or in case of failure a return of purchase price. On this safe plan you can buy from our advertised druggist a bottle of Dr. King's New discovery for Consumption. It is guaranteed to bring relief in every case, when used for any affection of Throat, Lungs or Chest, such as Consumption, Inflamation of Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Croup, etc., etc. fectly safe, and can always be depended King Humbert has warned Prince upon. Trial bottles free at John Y. Victor not to issue a manifest from Italy. | MacRae's drugstore.